Zojila Tunnel achieves 59% progress: Economic Survey

SAJID RAINA

Srinagar, Feb 05: Stating that the 13.15-km Zojila Tunnel has achieved around 59 percent physical progress and is expected to be completed by 2027-28, the Economic Survey Report 2025-26 revealed that Jammu and Kashmir's major tunnel projects aimed at improving all-weather road connectivity are making steady headway.

The report said the tunnel projects are being executed under the Prime Minister's Development Package (PMDP) and National Highway schemes to enhance mobility and reduce travel time across the hilly terrain of the Union Territory.

According to the Economic Survey, the 6.5-km Sonamarg (Z-Morh) Tunnel, located near Gagangir in Ganderbal district, was completed in July 2024 at a cost of Rs 2,379 crore. "Connecting the Srinagar-Sonamarg stretch of NH-01, the tunnel ensures year-round connectivity between Srinagar and Leh."

The survey also said the Sonamarg Tunnel holds strategic importance by enabling reliable movement for civilians and security forces toward the border regions. It also mitigates risks from heavy snowfall and avalanches, ending the seasonal closure of the Srinagar-Leh road that previously remained cut off for nearly seven months every year.

Other key projects, including the Panthal-Magarkote Tunnel, Digdole-Khooni Nallah Tunnel, Jammu Ring Road Tunnel, Bimber Gali Tunnel and Sungal Tunnel, are at different stages of construction, the report stated.

The Kundi Tunnel and Naushera Tunnel have already been completed, it added.

According to the Survey, the completion of these tunnel projects will strengthen road infrastructure, ensure smoother traffic flow, improve access to remote areas, and bolster the long-term economic and strategic development of Jammu and Kashmir—(KNO)

Speaker rejects amendment on attacks against Kashmiris

YOGESH

Jammu, Feb 05: A proposed amendment to the Lieutenant Governor's Address regarding the attacks on Kashmiris working in other states was defeated in the Legislative Assembly on Thursday.

After the CM's reply to the LG's Address, Peoples Conference president Sajad Lone pressed that his amendment be put to vote. When the amendment was put to voting, National Conference MLAs voted against it, while Peoples Conference and Peoples Democratic Party MLAs voted in its favour. Following the voice vote, the Speaker declared that the amendment had been rejected by the House. The amendment was taken up in the House after the CM's reply to the LG's Address.

When the Speaker asked Lone whether he would withdraw the amendment or press it, Lone said he would withdraw it if the government gave an assurance that they would create an institutional mechanism, such as a cabinet subcommittee, to look into these incidents.

Responding to Lone, CM Omar Abdullah said that an institutional mechanism is already in place to address such incidents. At this, Lone asked him to reveal details about such incidents. The CM did not respond, prompting Lone to press the amendment for voting.

Only Lone and PDP members in the House supported the amendment.

In a post on X, PC president Sajad Lone said that NC and BJP together voted against the amendment in the Assembly to defeat it. "I had moved amendments to the Honourable LG's Address. The concept was that these points be added to the Honourable LG's Address. The amendments were put to vote, and NC and BJP voted against them," Lone said. He expressed gratitude to PDP members for supporting his amendments. "Thanks to PDP members. They supported them," Lone added.

Lone's amendment read: "But to regret that there is no mention of the strongest possible condemnation in the Address about attacks on Kashmiri students, traders, and hawkers in different states and Union Territories, in their own country. Besides, there is no mention of any communication with the Union Government and different states to take strict action against the culprits involved in such dastardly acts."—(KNO)

J&K govt's policies a 'golden veil over failures': LoP Sharma

SAJID RAINA

Jammu, Feb 05: Leader of Opposition (LoP) in Jammu and Kashmir Legislative Assembly, Sunil Sharma, on Thursday accused the ruling government of failing to deliver on employment, electricity, governance, and autonomy promises, calling the administration's policies a "golden veil over failures".

Speaking during the ongoing budget session, Sharma alleged that the government's address largely repeated statements made over the past 25-26 years and offered little concrete action for the people of the Union Territory.

Challenging the government from the Assembly, he said, "Our right is to discuss in this house for the well-being of the people of Jammu and Kashmir. Whether someone likes or dislikes what I say, it can be disliked. But that does not mean we will excuse the government's failure to keep its promises."

The LoP highlighted employment as a major concern, claiming that the government had outsourced 24,000 jobs in the last one-and-a-half years, undermining the aspirations of meritorious youth.

He criticised the handling of electricity distribution under various schemes, including the promise of providing 200 units of free electricity to economically weaker households.

"Last year, the budget speech stated that 800,000 families under AAY would get electricity. A year has passed, yet this has not been implemented. The government does not have a vision document on where these units will be delivered or how they will be funded," he said.

EDITORIAL

Friday Brief: Sha'baan Is The Bridge To Ramadhan

The month of Sha'baan holds a unique and profound position in the Islamic calendar, serving as a spiritual bridge between the two blessed epochs of Rajab and Ramadhan. While not a month of obligatory fasting like Ramadhan, its significance, particularly its concluding days, is deeply rooted in the Sunnah of the Prophet Muhammad (Peace Be Upon Him). It is a time of preparation, elevation, and divine anticipation. The Prophet (PBUH) is reported to have fasted more in Sha'baan than in any other month apart from Ramadhan. When asked about this, he explained, "It is a month people neglect between Rajab and Ramadhan... and I love that my deeds be lifted up while I am fasting." This highlights Sha'baan's role as a period for spiritual rejuvenation and increasing voluntary worship (nafl) to smoothly transition into Ramadhan's intensity. It is a time for the heart to reorient itself towards obedience and for minor sins to be erased through increased devotion, ensuring one approaches Ramadhan with a cleansed slate and heightened consciousness. The pinnacle of Sha'baan is the night of the 15th, known as Laylat al-Bara'ah or the Night of Emancipation. While interpretations vary, many scholars hold it as a night of immense mercy when Allah's forgiveness descends, destinies are recorded, and prayers are answered. The Prophet (PBUH) urged believers to spend this night in prayer, seeking forgiveness, and to fast the following day. It is a night for introspection, repairing relationships, and seeking pardon—a divine opportunity for spiritual rectification before the holy month. Thus, the last days of Sha'baan are a final call to readiness. They are not for laxity but for polishing one's intentions, increasing Quranic recitation, and making sincere repentance (tawbah). It is the believer's final spiritual tuning before entering the marathon of Ramadhan. Sha'baan is the soul's runway for Ramadhan. By honouring it through fasting, night prayers, and seeking forgiveness, a Muslim does not merely wait for Ramadhan but actively builds the spiritual momentum to embrace its blessings fully. It is a merciful gift from Allah, allowing His servants to arrive at the gates of Ramadhan not as strangers to worship, but as prepared and eager guests of the Most Merciful.

Union Budget FY 2026-27:
Strengthening Capital Goods Sector

Press Information Bureau

India's capital goods sector is a strategic cornerstone in India's industrial policy, supported by government infrastructure investments and a strong manufacturing push. The sector is a critical driver of infrastructure expansion, industrial capacity creation, and technological advancement across the economy.

With a view to building high-precision manufacturing capacity, promoting technologically advanced equipment, and creating globally competitive industrial ecosystems, the capital goods sector has remained a key focus of government policy. Given its critical importance to the country's economic development, the sector's expansion has been consistently supported through targeted incentives and strengthened regulatory frameworks. The Union Budget 2026-27 further reinforces this direction, emphasising the need to support a rapidly expanding economy characterised by rising trade volumes and increasing capital requirements.

Guided by the framework of three kartavyas, the Union Budget identifies its first priority as accelerating and sustaining economic growth by proposing interventions in various key areas. Capital goods development remains a key component of the strategy, with continued emphasis on sector-specific schemes and sustained capital expenditure aimed at strengthening domestic manufacturing capabilities and infrastructure creation.

The proposed measures seek to boost investment, enhance domestic capacity, and support long-term economic growth in the Capital Goods sector.

Capital Goods

"Capital Goods" means any plant, machinery, equipment or accessories required for manufacture or production, either directly or indirectly, of goods or for rendering services, including those required for replacement, modernisation, technological up-gradation or expansion.

Capital goods may be used in manufacturing, mining, agriculture, aquaculture, animal husbandry, floriculture, horticulture, pisciculture, poultry, sericulture and viticulture as well as for use in services sector.

Capital Goods Sector Strengthening India's Growth Engine

The capital goods sector plays a vital role in India's economic strategy by supporting large-scale manufacturing and infrastructure projects. Driven by rapid urbanization, ongoing infrastructure investments, and strong policy support, the sector is set to foster long-term industrial growth and strengthen India's standing in the global economy.

Capital goods are widely regarded as foundational to strengthening domestic manufacturing capacity. The sector also exerts a strong multiplier effect on the economy, significantly influencing growth and employment across user industries by supplying critical inputs such as machinery and equipment to the entire manufacturing ecosystem, as well as to other related sectors.

Role of Capital Goods in Industrial Growth

India's industrial growth momentum in FY26 has become more broad-based, with manufacturing emerging as a major driver and gaining further pace during the year. The Economic Survey 2025-26 notes that manufacturing GVA growth accelerated in FY26, reaching 7.72% in Q1 and 9.13% in Q2, supported largely by ongoing structural transformations within the sector.

Further, the Index of Industrial Production (IIP) registered a growth of 7.8% in December 2025, supported by broad-based expansion in manufacturing (8.1%) and continued growth in mining (6.8%). A key contributor to this performance was the capital goods segment under the use-based classification, which recorded an 8.1% year-on-year increase during the same period.

The export performance of the capital goods sector since FY22 has been closely linked to the expansion of domestic production capacity and the strengthening of investment activity within the economy. Exports recorded steady growth, increasing to ₹33,356 crore in FY25 from ₹31,621 crore in FY24. Similarly, production also witnessed a notable rise, reaching ₹2,05,194 crore in FY25 compared with ₹1,85,858 crore in the previous financial year. On the import front, merchandise imports rose by 6.3% year-on-year in FY25 to reach USD 721.2 billion, driven largely by stronger demand for critical intermediate goods and capital equipment, reflecting resilient domestic demand. Further, capital goods imports expanded by 6.6% in Q1 FY26 and further accelerated to 9.2% in Q2 FY26. The overall dual trends highlights sustained domestic investment activity as well as reliance on technologically advanced machinery sourced from abroad.

Also, High-frequency indicators suggest healthy investment activity in capital goods. The overall growth in the sector indicates rising industrial activity, reflecting improved performance and expanding economic momentum.

High-frequency indicators signalling firming investment momentum (YoY growth, %)

High-frequency indicators are signalling a firming investment momentum, as evidenced by the year-on-year growth percentages. Specifically, capital goods imports increased from 6.6% in the first quarter of FY26 to 9.2% in the second quarter, and further rose to 13.4% in the third quarter. The monthly average year-on-year growth during the period from FY16 to FY20 was 7.1%. Additionally, capacity utilization rates improved from 74.1% in Q1 FY26 to 74.8% in Q2 FY26; data for Q3 FY26 was not available. These trends suggest an overall strengthening in investment activities.

What are Capital Goods Imports?

Capital goods imports are defined as the aggregate of imports of electric machinery and equipment; base metals excluding iron and steel; industrial machinery, including machinery for dairy and allied uses; machine tools; other construction machinery; project goods; and transport equipment.

Government Capex has continued to rise steadily since FY22

The Government's capital expenditure between FY19 and FY22 spending grew by about 92%, increasing from ₹3.07 lakh crore to ₹5.92 lakh crore. This upward trajectory has continued in subsequent fiscal years, supporting the broader objective of expanding high-quality infrastructure nationwide.

Additionally, the government's capital outlay has further increased by nearly 4.2 times, from ₹2.63 lakh crore in FY18 to a budgeted ₹11.21 lakh crore in FY26(BE), whereas effective public capital expenditure for FY26 (BE) stands at ₹15.48 lakh crore.

Sectoral Impact of Capital Goods Expansion

India's expanding capital goods sector is supporting strong growth across several industrial segments. It is experiencing significant attention because of its pivotal role in advancing industrial activity and overall economic development. The sector also encompasses other industries such as, machinery, and construction, which are essential for the country's infrastructure development. For instance, the electrical equipment segment has consistently recorded double-digit output growth in power equipment, driven by strong demand in both domestic and export markets.

Together, these trends highlights that India's capital goods sector is emerging as a central pillar of its investment-led growth strategy, reinforcing industrial capacity, accelerating infrastructure creation, and sustaining the country's long-term economic momentum.

Budget Focus on Capital Goods: A Push for the Economy

The Union Budget 2026-27 underscores the capital goods sector as a key driver of India's growth and industrial transformation. It prioritises expansion of manufacturing capacities in seven strategic and frontier sectors, supported by focused interventions for capital goods. The Budget strengthens the sector's role across manufacturing, and the energy transition to enhance productivity and quality standards. These measures aim to reinforce domestic capacity while supporting India's deeper integration with global markets.

Public Capital Expenditure: Infrastructure-led Growth

Reinforcing the role of public investment as a key driver of economic growth, the Budget delivers a strong push to infrastructure development. Public capital expenditure is proposed to be increased by -9% from FY 2025-26 (Budget Estimates) to ₹12.2 lakh crore in FY 2026-27. Public capex has increased manifold from ₹2 lakh crore in FY 2014-15. This underscores the continued emphasis on infrastructure-led growth, crowding-in of private investment and enhancement of productive capacity across the economy.

Strengthening Manufacturing through Capital Goods Development

Recognising the strong capital goods capability underpins productivity and quality across industries, several targeted interventions have been proposed to build domestic capacity.

To enhance high-precision manufacturing, Hi-Tech Tool Rooms are proposed to be established by CPSEs (Central Public Service Enterprise) at two locations. These facilities will function as digitally enabled, automated service bureaus, providing localised design, testing and manufacturing of high-precision components at lower cost.

Further, a Scheme for Enhancement of Construction and Infrastructure Equipment (CIE) is proposed to strengthen domestic manufacturing of high-value and technologically advanced construction and infrastructure equipment. This includes a wide range of equipment, from lifts used in multi-storey buildings and fire-fighting equipment to tunnel-boring machinery for metro projects and high-altitude roads.

To support logistics and trade infrastructure, the Budget also proposes a Scheme for Container Manufacturing, aimed at creating a globally competitive container manufacturing ecosystem. The scheme has a proposed budgetary allocation of ₹10,000 crore over a five-year period.

Support to Toll Manufacturing and Electronics Manufacturing

To provide a fillip to toll manufacturing in India, the Budget proposes an income tax exemption for a period of five years to any non-resident entity that provides capital goods, equipment or tooling to a toll manufacturer operating in a bonded zone.

In addition, specific support has been extended to toll manufacturing engaged in electronics manufacturing. Under the proposal, a tax exemption is provided to any foreign company supplying capital goods, equipment or tooling to a toll manufacturer located in a bonded zone and engaged in manufacturing electronic goods. The exemption is proposed for five tax years beginning 1st April, 2026.

The measure aims to reduce the capital investment burden on Indian contract manufacturers, thereby lowering production costs and promoting electronics manufacturing in India. The proposed amendment is applicable up to tax year 2030-31.

Energy Transition and Critical Minerals: Capital Goods Facilitation

In support of energy transition and energy security, the Budget proposes to extend the basic customs duty exemption on capital goods used for manufacturing Lithium-Ion cells for batteries to those used for manufacturing Lithium-Ion cells for battery energy storage systems as well.

Further, the basic customs duty on the import of capital goods required for processing critical minerals in India is proposed to be exempted, with a view to strengthening domestic value chains for critical minerals.

Recent Policy Support Strengthening Capital Goods Sector

The Government's policy support for the capital goods sector has expanded significantly, with multiple schemes aimed at improving domestic capability and aligning with India's investment-led growth phase. Some of the recent policy support includes:

Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Schemes

The core objective of the PLI Scheme is

HM Amit Shah arrives

the borders,” the official added.

“Later in the day, the Union Home Minister will chair a Jammu & Kashmir Security Review Meeting at Lok Bhavan, Jammu, at 2:30 PM, to take stock of the prevailing security situation and ongoing measures to maintain peace and stability in the region,” the official said, adding, “At 3:00 PM, the Union Home Minister will interact with the families of martyrs and participate in a compassionate appointment programme at Lok Bhavan, reaffirming the government’s commitment to supporting the families of those who have laid down their lives in the service of the nation.”

He said, “On February 7, the Union Home Minister will chair a meeting on the development of Jammu and Kashmir at 10:30 AM at Lok Bhavan, Jammu, to review progress on key development initiatives and future plans for the Union Territory. He will leave for New Delhi on Saturday afternoon.”

Referring to the Jammu visit of the Union Home Minister, Chief Minister Omar Abdullah told the Legislative Assembly that he would raise the issue of reopening tourist destinations closed after the Pahalgam terror attack with Shah. “Several tourist locations in Kashmir have remained shut. The issue will be taken up with the Home Minister,” he said.

Leader of Opposition Sunil Sharma welcomed Shah’s visit and said the scheduled security review would accelerate development in the Union Territory. “There will be a review of development-related schemes run by the Central Government. This will accelerate the pace of development and boost the morale of security forces,” he said.

Tanvir Sadiq, Chief Spokesperson of the Jammu and Kashmir National Conference, said the visit “brings a ray of hope” and called for restoration of statehood and action against attacks on Kashmiris outside the Union Territory.

PDP MLA Waheed Para said that Shah’s visit should be used to promote development and address concerns of youth. He called for measures on employment, dignity, and political outreach to restore confidence among young people in the region.

It may be recalled that during his previous visit to the Union Territory, HM Shah had similarly combined security consultations with administrative and development reviews, meeting local leadership and senior security commanders to assess operational priorities and progress on central projects. ### Entire world respects pride in the youth and weave India into a tapestry of unity. “I believe that after enduring a long journey of struggle, we have arrived at a momentous juncture where India must once again guide the world.”

“I am confident that the strength of unity and its spirit will elevate India to the status of a developed nation by 2047, enabling us to reclaim our ancient glory and rightful place in the world,” the Lieutenant Governor said.

Omar: Will raise

tourist spaces will be taken up with the Home Minister, who is visiting Jammu and Kashmir,” he said.

He further said that the registration process in the tourism sector is cumbersome and needs to be revised.

“We agree that the registration process is cumbersome. We have not reviewed the rules and procedures since 1978. We are working on it,” he said.

The CM explained that linking the registration of tourism units with the Public Service Guarantee Act-a law that ensures the delivery of government services in a time-bound manner-does not prevent corruption.

He added that the Government is contemplating simplifying the registration process either through self-declaration or deemed approval. (KNO) and future, but also reminded members that the address alone does not constitute the entire business of the budget session.

CM reaffirms push

“The budget has to be presented. There are many things to be discussed in the budget. After that, there will be grants,” the Chief Minister said, underlining that several occasions would arise during the session where the government would present its agenda before the people.

CM Omar Abdullah observed that Governor’s or President’s address is scheduled at first session each year and are not meant to be repeated again. He said the government deliberately avoided reiterating points already mentioned in the previous two LG addresses to prevent the opposition from accusing it of offering nothing new.

However, he reiterated that the Jammu and Kashmir National Conference government remains firmly committed to the promises made to the people, including the restoration of Jammu and Kashmir’s special status.

“They have less to say on the LG’s address and more to say on the National Conference Manifesto,” he remarked, adding in a lighter vein that the manifesto has become the central focus of the opposition’s attacks.

He stated that no government fulfils all promises in the first year, as the foundation and preparation take time. Drawing comparisons, he pointed to long-pending promises made by previous governments, including commitments to address water scarcity in Kishtwar through a tunnel project that has remained unfulfilled even after 12 years.

Turning to the promise of 200 units of free electricity, the Chief Minister said the government is deeply conscious of its credibility and has already initiated implementation in the current financial year. He explained that the government has begun rolling out the benefit through the PM Suryaghar Muft Bijli Yojana, ensuring that the promise is met through available means.

“I had never said that I will start new projects. I said that I will provide you with electricity. Now, there are many ways to provide electricity,” he stated, adding that the scheme has been started for AAY households and will be expanded to other categories as financial conditions improve.

The Chief Minister said that every year, progress will be made on manifesto commitments, and continuous discussion will ensure that the government remains accountable.

On the issue of statehood, CM Omar Abdullah reminded the House that the biggest promise made to the people by the opposition was the restoration of statehood to Jammu and Kashmir. He questioned why it has not yet been delivered despite repeated assurances during Parliamentary and Assembly elections.

He strongly condemned remarks suggesting separation of Jammu from Kashmir and statements reflecting mistrust. Calling such rhetoric deeply unfortunate, he said the common people of Kashmir are not against peace or the nation and have repeatedly shown courage and solidarity, including during incidents such as Pahalgam where locals came forward and even sacrificed their lives to save tourists.

Referring to the sacrifices of Jammu and Kashmir Police personnel since 1947, he recalled the historic slogan raised in Kashmir: “Hoshiyar Khabardar, Hum Kashmiri hai Tayaar.”

The Chief Minister cautioned against divisive politics and urged members to reflect on the consequences, pointing to the situation in Ladakh. He also questioned the logic of linking statehood to complete cessation of violence, asking who bears responsibility for recent incidents of militancy, bomb blasts and attack on tourists.

He recalled that in 2019 it was claimed that removing Article 370 would end separatism, militancy, corruption and other issues, yet encounters, crackdowns and militancy persist even in 2026.

Speaking on Jammu-related concerns, CM Omar Abdullah said discrimination narratives are often raised when there is nothing else to present before the people. He described the cancellation of the Darbar Move as the biggest betrayal of Jammu in recent years, which his government has corrected.

He reiterated his government’s consistent approach of balancing development between Jammu and Kashmir, citing establishment of universities, agricultural universities and central institutions. He recalled requesting former Prime Minister Late Dr. Manmohan Singh to provide two central universities to avoid regional conflict, which was accepted.

He expressed disappointment that promised projects like the IIT branch campus remain only on paper, and criticised past decisions such as the closure of a medical college allegedly due to communal considerations.

On the demand for a National Law University, he cautioned that admissions are merit-based, and urged that institutions should not be politicised or shut down due to prejudice.

The Chief Minister proposed that the closed medical college be granted minority status so that the investment of around Rs 300 crore is not wasted and doctors can continue to be produced for all regions including Kishtwar, Doda, Kathua, Srinagar, Kupwara, Baramulla, Ganderbal and beyond.

“Doctors do not treat the world of religion,” he said, urging members to revive the institution for the benefit of Jammu and Kashmir.

Highlighting governance challenges under the UT with Assembly model, CM Omar Abdullah described it as extremely difficult to function when authority is constrained. He questioned who devised such a system and called for its abolition, saying either UTs should not have Assemblies or such regions should be granted full statehood.

He cited administrative disruptions, including the transfer of the Finance Secretary just days before the budget preparation, calling it unprecedented. He also raised concern over the Resident Commissioner post being assigned additional burdens, affecting effective liaison with the Government of India.

The Chief Minister expressed satisfaction that business rules are expected to be finalised soon, which will reduce confusion and allow smoother governance.

On reservations issue, CM Omar Abdullah noted that the issue gained prominence only after the National Conference included it in its manifesto. He said his government fulfilled its commitment within six months through a Cabinet Sub-Committee led by Minister Sakina Itoo, submission of the report, preparation of a Cabinet Note, approval by the Council of Ministers and forwarding to the Lieutenant Governor, who has now referred it to the Home Ministry.

He urged those protesting to take their demands directly to the Union Home Minister, noting that if J&K were a state, such matters would not require central referral.

Regarding pre-budget consultations, the Chief Minister asserted that across all 90 constituencies, work has been initiated based on MLA priorities. He invited any member who feels otherwise to approach him personally, promising to provide lists of works undertaken.

Rejecting allegations of silence, CM Omar Abdullah said neither he nor his government has remained silent on issues affecting the emotions of the people, including prisoners lodged outside, harassment of journalists, and democratic concerns.

He criticised intimidation of journalists, stating that democracy cannot survive if the press is harassed. He also questioned unnecessary surveys of mosque imams and the summoning of reporters for raising civic issues like snow clearance delays.

The Chief Minister said he has raised concerns about Kashmiris being silenced or targeted in other parts of the country, including at the North Zone Chief Ministers’ Conference, urging that such actions increase distances rather than building unity. He said he would reiterate these concerns in his meeting with the Union Home Minister later tonight.

Drawing contrasts with opposition leaders, he recalled instances when they failed to speak during sensitive moments such as the 2008 Amarnath land row and the 2016 unrest, remarking that sometimes silence would have been better than insensitive statements.

The Chief Minister also raised concern over reports regarding an Indo-US trade deal, particularly the possibility of zero percent duty on agricultural imports from America. Expressing deep anxiety for apple growers in Rafiabad, Baramulla, Sopore, Shopian, Wachi and other apple-producing belts, he sought assurance that local agriculture will be protected.

Concluding, CM Omar Abdullah stressed that integration cannot be achieved through speeches, schemes, arrests or PSA alone. True integration, he said, can only come through winning hearts.

“Integration will only be done by winning hearts,” he asserted, adding that the dream of integration belongs to all.

Hopeful Business

of India. We will play our role. Those who expressed concern here should also play their role,” he said.

He said that the government has fulfilled the promise made to the people regarding reservation.

“We have done whatever was possible. We fulfilled our promise. We assured the people that the cabinet subcommittee report on reservation would be completed within six months. The subcommittee, headed by Sakina Itoo Ji, completed its report within the timeframe. The report was sent to the government, which examined it. After examination, the government prepared a cabinet memorandum. The Council of Ministers discussed and approved it, and then sent it to the Lieutenant Governor. The LG has forwarded it to the Home Ministry for further reference,” he said.

He added that nobody was talking about reservation until the National Conference incorporated it into its manifesto.

“Many members expressed concern over reservation. Nobody was talking about it until the National Conference included it in its manifesto. Their tongues were tied on the issue of reservation. I remember during the Parliament elections, PDP members were told not to speak about reservation because their President was contesting from Rajouri and Poonch and wanted votes there,” he said.

The cabinet has recommended a 10 percent increase in the open category by reducing 10 percent overall, including a proposed reduction of seven percent in the Economically Weaker Sections quota. (KNO)

Amit Shah launches

He clarified misconceptions about government involvement in the taxi sector, stating that the government is not entering the business but facilitating cooperation (Sahakar), which is about collective ownership and empowerment.

Shah described Sahakar Taxi as possibly the world’s first cooperative taxi company where the real owners are the drivers (Sarathis). Unlike traditional models, where earnings go to companies or external owners, in Sahakar Taxi, the drivers themselves are the owners. This model is expected to significantly improve the economic conditions, self-confidence, and dignity of taxi drivers. He drew parallels with successful cooperative ventures like Amul, which began with just 11 milk producers and now supports over 36 lakh women livestock-rearers earning over 125,000 crore annually, some earning up to 1 crore a year. The success of such models demonstrates that ordinary people, when made owners, can achieve remarkable progress.

The Home Minister urged drivers to understand that while they will continue driving taxis, their earnings will now directly benefit them, as the cooperative model ensures profits go into their own accounts. He explained that the co-operative structure pools small capital contributions—starting with as little as 500—forming the foundation for economic independence. Governance will involve elected representatives from among the drivers, who will sit on the board and make decisions, ensuring ownership rights.

Bharat Taxi integrates various vehicle types—four-wheelers, three-wheelers, and two-wheelers—and prioritizes women’s safety through the ‘Sarathi Didi’ initiative. Under this, women drivers (Didis) will operate two-wheelers to pick up women customers, promoting safe, affordable, and dignified travel for women, contributing to their safety and empowerment.

The service has already signed MoUs with nine major institutions, including Delhi Traffic Police, Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC), Airport Authority of India (AAI), IFFCO Tokio Insurance, State Bank of India, and Paytm, among others. These partnerships will enhance operational efficiency, digital integration, safety, and customer convenience. For example, Bharat Taxi will operate 34 prepaid taxi booths at 21 locations in Delhi, with real-time ride monitoring, SOS alerts, and emergency response mechanisms. It will also be integrated with Digilocker, UMANG, and API Setu to enable paperless on-boarding and cashless payments, making operations seamless for drivers and passengers.

Airport collaborations will facilitate last-mile connectivity at major terminals, with Bharat Taxi services permitted at IGI Airport, offering discounts and regulated operations. Insurance coverage of 5 lakh for drivers will be provided by IFFCO Tokio, and digital payment integration will be supported by Paytm, strengthening the fintech ecosystem for drivers. The partnership with GMR will further expand Bharat Taxi’s airport mobility services.

Financial support is also a key element. Under the partnership with SBI, priority loans will be available for eligible driver-owners under schemes like Pradhan Mantri Mudra Yojana, facilitating easier access to capital. This financial backing aims to promote driver ownership, economic growth, and social security.

Union Minister Shah emphasized that Bharat Taxi embodies the principles of ownership, security, dignity, and equitable distribution of profits, with the model designed to benefit drivers directly. Since its establishment on June 6, 2025, Bharat Taxi has seen rapid growth, with over 2.5 lakh drivers and 8.5 lakh passengers in Delhi-NCR alone, surpassing other taxi services in registration and reach.

The launch was marked by a rally of 100 cars from Indira Gandhi International Airport to Vigyan Bhawan, symbolizing unity and collective strength of India’s taxi community. During the event, top-performing driver partners were felicitated, receiving accident and health insurance coverage, underscoring Bharat Taxi’s commitment to driver welfare.

Shah expressed confidence that Bharat Taxi would be a transformative model for the co-operative sector, expanding into new sectors and empowering unorganized workers across India. The initiative aims to foster self-reliance, dignity, and prosperity for millions of drivers, aligning with Prime Minister Modi’s vision of inclusive growth and cooperative development.

and accountability, besides improvement in efficiency in delivery of services and minimizing public spending. Further, manpower strength can be adjusted as per work load, project duration and seasonal or scheme-based requirements.”

He added that for selection of outsourcing agencies, the departments follow the procedures as laid down in GFR-2017 and manual for procurement of consultancy and other services and the important provisions of the RFP (Request for Proposal) have been laid down in the manual for procurement of consultancy and other services and the departments are required to follow the same.

“The guidelines are outsourced in terms of CSS guidelines or to MoUs executed by the Departments. Besides, outsourced manpower complements the workload of the Government in lesser important assignments, rather than replacing the existing sanctioned strength of Government staff,” he added.

As per the details, over 16000 jobs were outsourced to different companies while over 6,000 to Government Medicals colleges and hospitals in Jammu and Kashmir. (KNO)

Centre signs tripartite of Nagaland viz. Tuensang, Mon, Kiphire, Longleng, Noklak and Shamator, and devolution of powers in respect of 46 Subjects to the FNTA.

On this occasion, Union Home Minister said, “Today is a very significant day for a dispute-free North East. Prime Minister Narendra Modi has envisioned a North East that is free from insurgency, violence, disputes, and developed. Today, we have taken one more step forward in realizing that vision. Eleven years ago, several armed groups and disputes in the North East were pushing the region towards fragmentation and disturbing its peace. At the same time, many inter-state disputes were disrupting the peace of the states.”

Shah said that the government led by PM Modi is committed to finding solutions to every dispute. He said that since 2019, the Modi government has signed 12 important agreements in the North East. He stated that previous governments only signed agreements, but Modi government implements them in letter and spirit. The Home Minister said that he wants to assure the representatives of ENPO that the Government of India will assist in the development of Eastern Nagaland and also will shoulder its responsibility. Shah added that every year a fixed amount will be decided, and the Ministry of Home Affairs of the Government of India will also provide the initial expenditure for establishment.

Amit Shah said that in 2021-22, he had told the representatives of ENPO that the government led by PM Modi is committed to finding a solution to every dispute. He had assured them to keep faith and participate in the democratic process, and they would definitely receive both fair justice and due respect. The Home Minister said that today he is feeling immense joy because, after the officers of the Ministry of Home Affairs worked for a long time as a bridge between ENPO and the Government of Nagaland, today we have been able to resolve this dispute.

The Home Minister said that we all are very well aware of the ENPO region and its strategic importance. Ever since the creation of Nagaland, the citizens of Eastern Nagaland have continuously felt in their hearts that they were not receiving justice. Shah said that he had spoken with the Chief Minister of Nagaland, Neiphiu Rio, and Rio had very happily stated that he would listen to all the demands of ENPO with an open heart, discuss them, and also accept them. Expressing his gratitude to Chief Minister Neiphiu Rio, the Home Minister said that the Government of Nagaland, Rio’s cabinet colleagues, and both Members of Parliament from the state had, with great magnanimity, taken this negotiation to its logical conclusion.

Amit Shah said that today a very long-standing dispute has reached a happy conclusion. Extending congratulations to all the people of Eastern Nagaland, all the struggling organizations of ENPO, the Chief Minister of Nagaland, his cabinet, and the Members of Parliament, he said that today we have taken one more step forward in the direction of ending all disputes in Nagaland. He stated that now there will be no obstacle in the path of development of Eastern Nagaland. Home Minister said that the agreement reflects our government’s commitment to resolving all contentious issues to fulfill genuine aspirations of the people. He said that both the Government of India and the Government of Nagaland will jointly take forward the development of Eastern Nagaland.

The agreement provides, inter-alia, for mini-Secretariat for FNTA, headed by Additional Chief Secretary/Principal Secretary, Sharing of development Outlay for the Eastern Nagaland region proportional to population and area. However, this agreement does not affect in any manner whatsoever, the provisions of Article 371(A) of Constitution of India.

This unique arrangement envisages overall development of Eastern Nagaland through financial autonomy, enhanced decision-making leading to accelerated infrastructure development, economic empowerment and optimum resource utilization.

The Agreement depicts the Government of India’s commitment to resolve all contentious issues through dialogue to meet genuine aspirations of the people of North East and proves basic tenet of the democracy that solutions could only be achieve through negotiations based on mutual respect and dialogue instead of violence and armed conflict.

Deputy Chief Minister of Nagaland Yanthungo Patton, his cabinet colleagues and other dignitaries, senior officers from the Union Ministry of Home Affairs and Government of Nagaland were also present.

World confident of stability after India's trade deals with EU, US: PM Modi

PTI

New Delhi, Feb 05: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday said in the Rajya Sabha that the world is feeling more confident of stability after India's trade deals with the EU and the US.

Replying to a discussion on the Motion of Thanks to the President's Address, Modi said India does not have to either look back or stop, but only move forward to achieve the goal of Viksit Bharat.

"India is signing future-ready trade deals with several nations. In the last few days, we have signed trade deals with nine big nations, including the 'mother of all deals' with the 27-nation bloc of the European Union," he said. He said the Opposition will have to one day reply to what they did to the nation in the past and added that lot of his energy was spent in rectifying the mistakes of the Congress-led governments. "When the trade deal with the European Union took place, the world became more confident of stability. After the trade deal with the US, the world has still more confidence... It is a good sign for the world," Modi said.

He said the President of India has expressed confidence in India's bright future in her address to the joint sitting of Parliament.

Earlier, the PM started his speech amid sloganeering by the Opposition. Modi also took a dig at the Leader of Opposition in the Rajya Sabha and Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge and suggested that he can keep raising slogans while sitting.

The Opposition later staged a walkout.

PM accuses Opp of insulting President, Constitution for not allowing debate in LS

PTI

New Delhi, Feb 05: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday accused the Congress of in-sulting the tribal woman President of India, as well as the Constitution, by resorting to dis-ruptions in the Lok Sabha and not allowing the debate on the Motion of Thanks on her ad-dress.

Terming the events in the Lok Sabha painful, he also accused the main Opposition party of insulting tribals, dalits, and people from the northeast.

Replying to a debate on the Motion of Thanks to the President's address in the Rajya Sabha, the Prime Minister accused the Congress of insulting the Constitution.

He had to skip his reply to the debate in the Lok Sabha because of repeated uproar by the Opposition.

Talking about disruptions in the Lok Sabha, the Prime Minister said, "Congress insulted the President, who comes from a humble tribal community. It's shameful...Yesterday in the Lok Sabha, a discussion could not be held on the President's address. They have insulted the entire tribal community, a woman and India's top constitutional post, the office of the Pres-ident. They have also insulted the Constitution".

"Such people do not have the right to speak about the Constitution."

"The incident that took place in the Lok Sabha is very painful. We can understand your frus-tration, but it was done in the temple of democracy. At that time, there was an MP from As-sam in the chair, and papers were thrown at him. Is it not an insult to the northeast? Not an insult to the people of Assam?"

He was referring to Dilip Saikia, a BJP MP from Darrang-Udalguri in Assam, and Krishna Prasad Tenneti, a TDP MP from Bapatla, Andhra Pradesh. Both are members of the Panel of Chairpersons in the Lok Sabha.

"They did it yesterday as well, at that time, a son of a Dalit family from Andhra Pradesh was sitting in the Chair. They are doing their job, but you are insulting him because he comes from a Dalit family?" he said.

He also accused the Congress of insulting the singer, composer, filmmaker, poet, and lyri-cist from Assam, Bhupen Hazarika.

"It was our fortune that we could give Bharat Ratna to him. They raised objec-tions to that as well," he said.

SC agrees to hear PIL against poll freebies promises by political parties

PTI

New Delhi, Feb 05: The Supreme Court on Thursday agreed to list for hearing in March a PIL seeking direction to seize the symbol or deregister a political party that promises or distributes "irrational freebies" before polls.

Lawyer-petitioner Ashwini Updhyaya told a bench comprising Chief Justice Surya Kant and Justice Joymalya Bagchi that the notices on his PIL were issued to the Centre and the Election Commission in 2022 itself, and urged it to list the matter soon.

"Except Sun and Moon, everything is promised by political parties to voters during elections and this amounts to corrupt practice," the lawyer said.

"This is an important issue. You please remind us and mention it at the end. We will list in March," the CJ said.

On January 25, 2022, a bench headed by the then Chief Justice N V Ramana had sought replies from the Centre and the Election Commission on the PIL seeking direction to seize the symbol or deregister a political party that promises or distributes "irrational freebies" before polls.

The bench had termed it a "serious issue" and said sometimes "freebie budget is going beyond regular budget".

The plea urged the court to declare that the promise of "irrational freebies" from public funds before elections unduly influences the voters, disturbs the level-playing field and vitiates the purity of the poll process.

The petition filed through advocate Ashwani Kumar Dubey has, as an alternative, sought a direction to the Centre to enact a law in this regard.

"Petitioner submits that recent trend of political parties to influence voters by offering freebies with an eye on elections is not only the greatest threat to the survival of democratic values but also injures the spirit of the Constitution," said the plea.

"This unethical practice is just like giving bribes to the electorate at the cost of the exchequer to stay in power and must be avoided to preserve democratic principles and practices," it said.

The petition has also sought a direction to the ECI to insert an additional condition in the relevant paragraphs of the Election Symbols (Reservation and Allotment) Order 1968, which deals with conditions for recognition as a state party, that a "political party shall not promise/distribute irrational freebies from the public fund before the election".

The petitioner has urged the apex court to declare that the promise or distribution of private goods or services, which are not for public purposes, from public funds before the elections, violates several articles of the Constitu-tion, including Article 14

(equality before law).

The plea has referred to the promises being made by certain political parties ahead of the Assembly poll in some states.

The fulcrum of democracy is the electoral process, and the distribution of money and the promise of freebies have reached alarming levels with elections being countermanded several times, it said.

"Petitioner submits that arbitrary promises of irrational freebies violate the ECI's mandate for free and fair elections and distributing private goods-services, which are not for public purposes, from public funds clearly violate Articles 14, 162, 266(3) and 282 of the Constitution," it said.

16 labourers dead, several others feared trapped after blast in 'illegal' coal mine in Meghalaya

Shillong, Feb 05: At least 16 labourers were killed, and several others feared trapped following an explosion at an "il-legal" coal mine in Meghalaya's East Jaintia Hills district on Thursday, Director General of Police I Nongrang said.

Rescue teams have been engaged in search operations, she said, adding that the incident occurred in the Thangsku area in the morning. "We have recovered 16 bodies so far. The exact number of labourers present inside the mine at the time of the explosion is yet to be ascertained. More people are feared trapped," she said.

One person who sustained injuries in the blast was initially taken to Sutnga Primary Health Centre before being referred to a Shillong hospital for better treatment, East Jaintia Hills Superintendent of Police Vikash Kumar said.

The explosion is suspected to have occurred during coal mining activities at the site, which is believed to be an illegal operation.

Asked whether the mine was operating illegally, Kumar said, "Yes, it seems like that."

He said the cause of the explosion is yet to be ascertained, and an inquiry will be conducted.

The National Green Tribunal (NGT) had imposed a ban on rat-hole coal mining and other unscientific mining practices in Meghalaya in 2014, citing environmental damage and safety risks, while also restricting illegal transportation of coal extracted through such methods.

Rat-hole mining involves digging of narrow tunnels, usually 3-4 feet high, for workers to enter and extract coal. The horizontal tunnels are often termed "rat-holes", as each just about fits one person.

The Supreme Court later upheld the ban and allowed mining only under scientific and regulated procedures with environmental safeguards.

‘Parkinson's treatment may be more effective if targeting cognition-action network in brain’

PTI

New Delhi, Feb 05: A study has suggested that treatments for Parkinson's disease could potentially be doubly efficacious by targeting a brain network linking cognition and action, rather than brain regions responsible for movements.

Parkinson's disease is a neurodegenerative condition affecting movements, sleep, motivation and thought processes. Common symptoms include tremors, stiffness and walking difficulties.

Researchers, led by those from China's Peking University and Washington University in St. Louis in the US, analysed data gathered from 863 people with Parkinson's disease receiving treatments shown in previous studies to improve symptoms, including deep brain stimulation and medication.

Deep brain stimulation involves sending electrical signals to a specific brain area via surgically implanted electrodes. Findings published in the journal Nature show that brain regions commonly affected in Parkinson's disease connect more strongly to the somato-cognitive action network (SCAN), identified as a brain network in recent years for linking cognition with movement and bodily state.

The connection was found to be increased in Parkinson's disease but not in other disorders affecting movements, the researchers said. The treatments analysed were found to reduce this SCAN hyperconnectivity, bringing it closer to levels seen in healthy volunteers, they said.

For example, targeting the SCAN instead of brain regions associated with movement doubled the efficacy of transcranial magnetic stimulation treatments, a non-invasive method that stimulates neurons using magnetic fields.

The SCAN could be a potential candidate for explaining the broad range of symptoms experienced in Parkinson's disease, the team said.

"This work demonstrates that Parkinson's is a SCAN disorder, and the data strongly suggest that if you target the SCAN in a personalised, precise manner, you can treat Parkinson's more successfully than was previously possible," co-author Nico U. Dosenbach, professor of neurology at Washington University's School of Medicine, said.

"Changing the activity within SCAN could slow or reverse the progression of the disease, not just treat the symptoms," Dosenbach said.

The findings suggest that changes to the brain network may be central to how Parkinson's disease affects the body's functioning and could help guide future treatments and brain-based therapies, the researchers said.

They added that further research is needed to confirm how best to use the study's findings in clinical care.
